PROGRESS OF IMPROVEMENT IN IRELAND. The Dublin correspondent of the Philadelphia North American, in his letter of style and finish Jan. 3d, says:

Happily, our record is now of peace and progress. We had our day of turbulence and wretchedness. The new distribution of the land; solvent, resident proprietors, with capital; farms of proper size, with men who have skill and means to manage them, have increased the value of live stock, in five years, by as many millions. Flax culture and manufacture is extending in districts where it was previously unknown. And the sewed muslin manufacture, which, introduced in one district of Connaught by the Belfast ladies, produced £20,000 in one year, is now in progress of being extended over the

The Millerites in this city have renewed their zeal of late, and confidently predict the end of the world this year. They do not name the precise day. That has been done several times, and of course failed: the general plan is to speak of the time as to occur sometime the present year. Some, however, fix the time to be on the 26th of May, when the great eclipse occurs. The progress of events in Europe, they say, surely indicates the fulfillment of the prophecy. The Czar of Russia is making his last gigantic stride towards Constantinople, which when reached will shut the book of time for us. Their zeal is darkened by words without knowledge-and long after these devotees shall have returned to dust, their present words and acts will be pointed to as an era of strange delusion among otherwise sensible men .- Portland Argus.

confidence we feel in an article which seldom fails to realize the happiest effects that can be desired .-So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kinds, is too apparent to e-cape observation, and where its virtues are known; the public no onger hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs, which are incident to our climate. Nothing has called louder for the earnest enquiry of medical men than the alarming prevalence and
